

Athena Range - Bench Seating

Garran Leisure Solutions design, manufacture and install the complete changing room solution for the leisure industry.

The Athena range of bench seating was created to bring the cutting edge designs together with strength, practicality and durability. With many options to choose from, our bench range offers the finishing touch to any changing or welfare facility. Its straight design incorporates quality fixtures, fixings and finishes to give a stunning overall appearance.

The Athena bench seating available in a variety of colours is ideally suited for both wet and dry areas and is able to withstand the rigors and heavy use found within busy leisure centre, high specification health and fitness clubs or hotel fitness suites. We offer a wide range of standard and bespoke bench seating options.

We can work with you to design and manufacture our seating products to your requirements, to make the most of the space available within your changing area. Our wide range of expertise and experience means we can offer an exceptional solution to clients who expect the best.

The Athena Wave range of bench seating incorporates elliptical slats to give a wave effect to any changing room; the heavy duty extruded aluminium slats bring a pure simplicity to the design yet still retain the ability to withstand the heavy use normally associated with a traditional leisure centre.

The Athena Wave range of seating is available as free standing, single or double island units and also in a cantilever system.

Wave seating range couples exceptional strength and pure elegance with a spectrum of colours to choose from and combine.

The Athena Classic Range of bench seating is designed with durability in mind.

The extreme strength and rigidity of the range ensures that the demands of high usage areas are surpassed without compromising style or aesthetics.

The 50mm round tube will withstand almost any punishment. With slats made from either timber or solid grade laminate to match locker doors, the Athena Classic range of bench seating is ideally suited for use within busy leisure centres.

Available as free standing, single or double island units and also in a cantilever system

Changing room furniture that will stand the test of time:

- All frames are fitted with adjustable feet and floor fixing brackets as standard to accommodate uneven floors and to ensure structural stability at all times.
- Where floor fixed items are required the fixing points are concealed to ensure the installation is tamper / vandal resistant.
- Special height units are available for juniors and infants.
